In Dedication . . .

For his assistance in all of our class projects since we became U High students four years ago, we wish to dedicate our 1951 annual to our class sponsor, Mr. Harold Moore.

. . . Recognition

Financial problems, deadline problems — all kinds of problems — made the job of putting out the annual more difficult than many people realize. We wish to thank our adviser, Mr. Don Templeton, for the time and effort he spent in helping us solve those problems.

Our Administrative Leaders

Under U High's self-government system, it has been easy to realize that we were nearing adulthood. Principal H. D. Lovelass, who gave us fair and honest decisions when called upon, stood back of our Student Council and encouraged it to make its own decisions at all times.

With the entire university to think about, President R. W. Fairchild still had time to discuss U High matters and give us a boost when we needed it.

We Seniors have had a wonderful, busy four years

The freshman year started off with a bang back in 1947, and now it's ending the same way. Here are some of the highlights between explosions. We were green, but we caught on quickly. We chose our class officers that first year from the football squad, with Bobby Kadlec as president, Steve McCormick as vice-president, and Gene Seyster as secretary-treasurer. We ended our freshman year by putting on the class night party.

Up we moved to our sophomore year, and, to give the girls a chance, we chose Janet Kinder, president; Pat Orr, vice-president; Jessica Means, secretary; and Joan Smith, treasurer.

It was that year we sponsored our first all-school party, and we thought it was a successful one, too. It had a spring theme, "April Showers," and we exhibited our talents under the direction of a committee headed by Helen Holliday.

Then came our predicted successful junior year. Were we ever big shots — man! Selling candy, cokes, and everything else folks would eat at noon and at ball games, we built a treasury that provided the seniors with a fine send-off dinner prom night. We needed two secretaries, Alma Lou Powell and Fred Marsh, and two treasurers, Lou Ann Unzicker and Joe Green, to carry the load. Steve McCormick and Dewayne Davis were president and vice-president. Those officers were real celebrities. Alma Lou was chosen as U. Club queen, and the boys were all prominent in sports.

The prom, with a "Southern Plantation" theme, wound up our junior year May 24, 1950, but not before we presented "Arensic and Old Lace" as the class play and saw three of our class, Steve McCormick, Pat Orr, and Helen Holliday, chosen as members of the National Honor Society.

At long last, our senior year! But now, looking back, it didn't seem so long. We elected Dewayne Davis as president for our last year in U. High, with Julia Beebe, Dona Jo Sizemore and Mike Michalski filling the other positions. Bob Kadlec was elected Homecoming King after a vigorous poster campaign, and Janet Graf was elected queen. John Anderson and Jessica Means were their attendants.

One thing we'll always remember about our senior year is our football team that went undefeated for the second straight year. With Bob Kadlec as captain, our class furnished almost all the first team. Seniors on the squad included Glen Anderson, Jim Barnes, Willard

Hilburn, Steve McCormick, Joe Green, Kenny Burnett, Bob Burnett, Dewayne Davis, John Anderson, Roy Robinson, Dick Wachter, Dick Osborn, Norrin Foster, Dick Volk, and Fred Williams. The Inter-City and Corn Belt trophies stayed with us for another year, and several of the fellows were named to All-City and All-Conference teams. Jim Barnes rated all-state mention for his outstanding work at tackle.

The basketball team didn't compile the record of the football team, but they gave our good rivals from Normal Community two good battles and lost a number of other close ones. Dewayne Davis was captain, and Seniors Jim Barnes, John Anderson, Nate Connell, Steve McCormick, Lendsy Gaiter, and Joe Green were the backbone of the squad. The end of the basketball season also meant the end of the cheerleading careers of Marilyn Nelson and Mary Anne Hans. Dewayne Davis moved from the basketball court to the diamond as captain, backed up by fellow seniors Bob Kadlec, Fred Marsh, Glen Anderson, Mike Michalski, and Steve McCormick.

Sports wasn't all we starred in as seniors, for we added seven more members to the honor society, including Alma Lou Powell, Janet Fese, Dewayne Davis, Lynn Jorgensen, Helen Jefferson, Lou Ann Unzicker and Ray Goetsch.

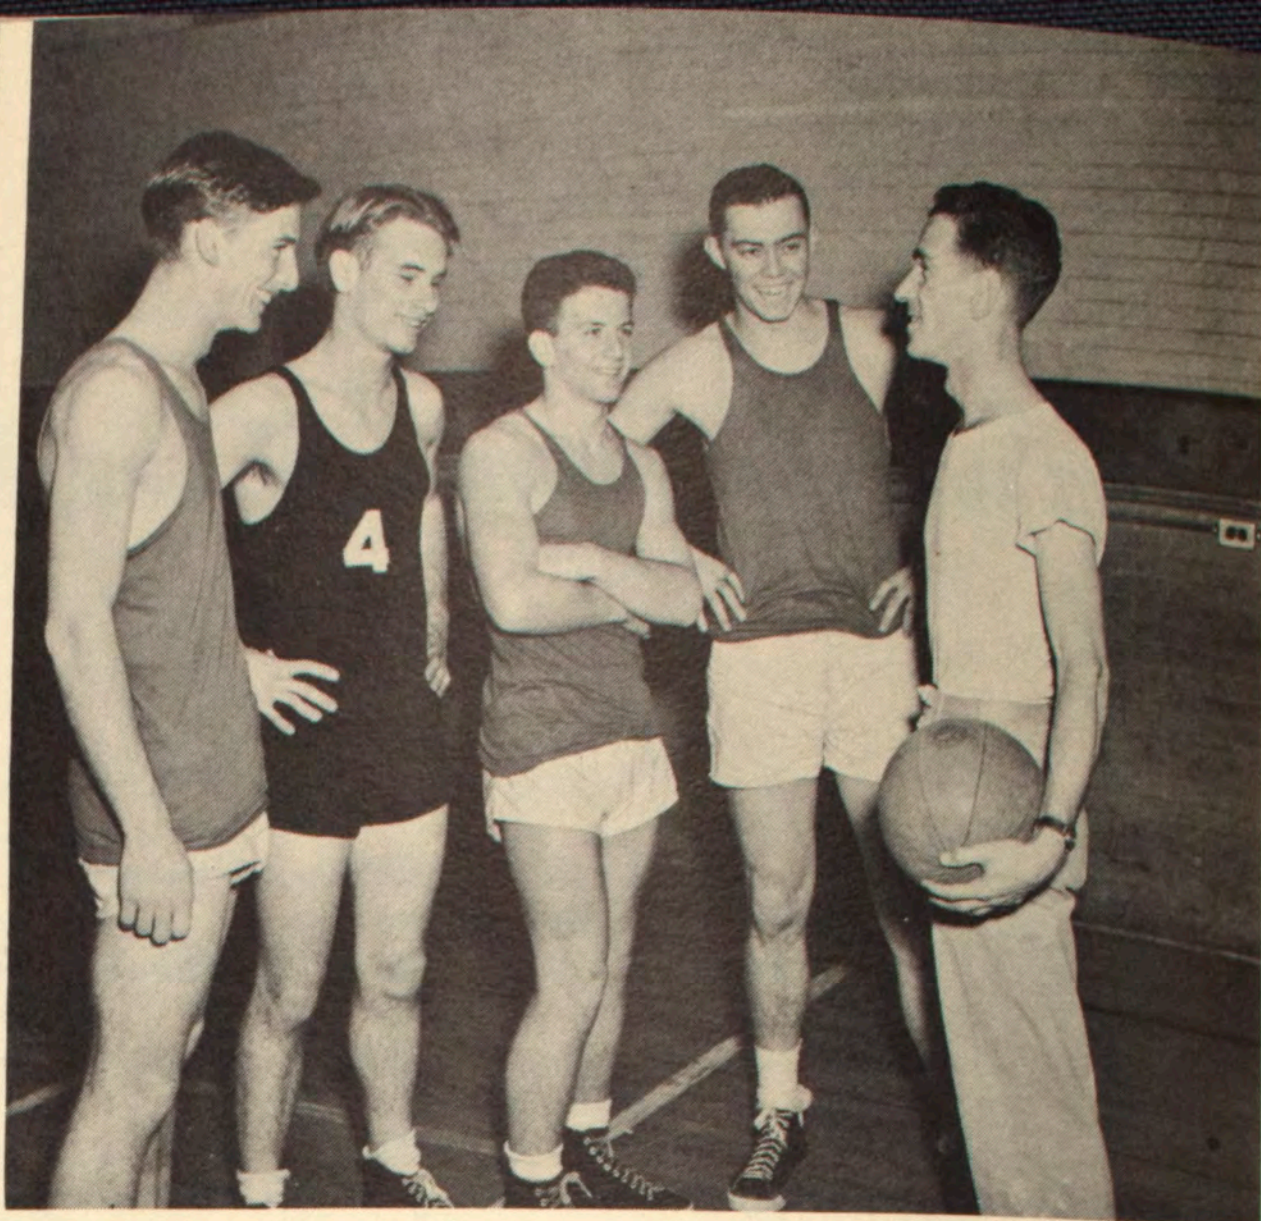

With Helen Jefferson and Helen Holliday as two teenagers on their first trip abroad, our senior play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," brought much hearty laughter from an appreciative audience. Leroy Brush as the father of one of the girls caused much of the uproar.

We had plenty for which to thank the juniors after their wonderful treatment at the Junior-Senior Prom May 25, 1951. It was wonderful to leave the money worries to the juniors and just relax and enjoy their "Up in Central Park" program. We decided to try a new location for our Senior Skip Day picnic, and traveled to Fox Ridge Park.

That was the beginning of the end. We had already had the prom, class night, and baccalaureate, but Skip Day meant the end of our high school life. All that remained was commencement, June 8, and we were ready to leave the halls of U. High to the Class of 1952, with the sure knowledge they would leave their mark just as we hope we have.

The Track Squad showed early power

Opening its 1951 season with a win in a triangular meet with Trinity and Clinton, the U. High track squad took part in two relay carnivals, the Corn Belt conference meet, and a dual meet before the state series.

Dropping their only dual meet to Bloomington, the Green and Gold showed signs of developing one standout performer and several others of good quality to back him up.

The standout was Kenny Burnett, hurdler, dashman, and broad jumper, who was always good for points in each event he entered. Paul Goetz, intercity mile champion, was another consistent point-getter.

U. High placed third in the conference meet behind Pontiac and Normal High.
